

Human Invest is training a new generation of students

In the month of May Human Invest conducted a series of training sessions for one of the largest student organizations in Romania, BEST Bucharest, with the aim of helping students develop the essential abilities that will ensure a better start in their future careers.

During trainings on subjects such as Presentations Skills and Change Management more than 50 students from various universities discovered what lies behind a successful presentation, how to establish objectives, delegation techniques and how to efficiently implement changes in an organization.

“TNT - Training New Talents”, organized by BEST Bucharest was a tremendous success from the very first edition! Thanks to the training sessions on subjects such as Presentation Skills and Change Management, students from the University of Bucharest, ASE or SNSPA were able to develop their ability to prepare and present a speech and learned how to successfully implement changes in an organization.” said Magda Nastase, one of the event's organizers.

Human Invest will also implement a series of training sessions aimed at helping the board members of BEST Bucharest increase the overall performance of the organization.

Ever since we first started doing business Human Invest has been actively involved in the non-governmental environment in order to help young people with potential grow and develop. We are aware that not only companies or their employees face challenges with regard to leadership, communication or management. Working alongside student organizations we realize that age and experience don't matter. What does is the abilities that people develop throughout the course of their career. The sooner we start the easier it will be to achieve top performance and efficiency.
